WEBINAR SERIES 2024-2025

Varieties of re-enchantment: nature and spirituality in contemporary societies

Professor Ryan Cragun

University of Tampa

Religion/Spirituality Are Not Necessary for Enchantment

Because humans predate organized religion, it is time to stop thinking about these as necessary. I propose flipping our thinking to recognize that religion is a bundle of phenomena that works well for humans but has never been necessary. Human interactions with nature illustrate how enchantment is natural and religion is artificial.
